Basic BG Student Cost Among State's Lowest

Student Body Qualifications Are Listed; Nomination Forms To Be Mailed Soon

By CARL SCHWOBEL

A survey conducted by the News among four state-supported colleges has revealed that Bowling Green State University ranks second in basic cost to the student per year.

Ohio University, with a minimum fee of $1,037 for a state resident and $1,337 for out-of-state residents, has the lowest cost requirement among the colleges surveyed. The student attending Bowling Green pays a basic fee of $1,100, if a state resident. Out-of-state students pay an additional $300.

Kent State University has a fee of $1,150 for residents of Ohio, and $1,355 for non-residents, placing it third on the list. Miami University is the most expensive in over-all cost of the four state universities contacted. The minimum fee is $1,110 and $1,140 for residents and non-residents, respectively.

Heidelberg University, the University of Toledo, and the University of Dayton, because they are privately supported institutions, have considerably higher fees per year. The student attending Heidelberg pays a minimum of $1,650 per year. The figure at Toledo University is $1,598, and at Dayton University $1,430.

All fees listed are for basic expenses only. Money spent for books, personal items, and social life is additional.

Robert E. McKay, student financial aid counselor, stated, "The cost of attending Bowling Green is comparatively low." Mr. McKay offered approximate figures on costs to the BG student outside the original fee. He feels that, on the average, men and women students spend approximately $90 for cleaning and laundry, and $80 for books per year. Men spend approximately $175 for recreation, whereas girls spend $100. With these figures added to the original cost, the final amount is about $1,445 for men and $1,370 for women.

"For every student on campus the state contributes $20 per credit hour and a total of $550 per student for a year," Mr. McKay added. Multiplying these figures by the total number of students here shows that Ohio foots approximately one third of the bill for each college student.

The question is, "Can the state continue to give this support with the increased enrollment each year?" In the United States there are approximately three and a half million college students. By 1970, this figure is expected to rise to six million, possibly seven. The combined annual budgets of approximately 1,800 colleges are now about $3 billion. By 1970 they are expected to total at least $6 billion.

With this forthcoming problem, what is the student to do? If the tuition is increased to meet actual expenses, the average-income family will not be able to send its children to college.

A possible solution is increased alumni support, contributions from corporations, and, most importantly, federal aid.

Bowling Green, with rapidly increasing enrollment, will be among the colleges squarely faced with this problem. Consequently larger facilities, more buildings, and increased facilities will be needed. Thus, the reasoning behind the steadily increasing fees becomes apparent.

Grapevine, B-G News Found Most Effective

A University graduate student recently compiled a survey report on the effectiveness of the various communications media at Bowling Green. Robert Ebenfeld, a graduate student in psychology, found that the students and faculty members questioned by the survey believed the grapevine to be the most effective communications medium on campus, with the B-G News a close second.

In answer to Ebenfeld's survey question, "If the administration at Bowling Green made an important change—through what channel would you be most likely to get the word first?", 52 per cent of the people quizzed believed that

Chorale, Orchestra, Choir Will Present 'King David' Drama

The A Cappella and Collegiate Chorale, directed by Cardon V. Burnham, assistant professor of music, will join the Toledo Orchestra tomorrow in the presentation of Arthur Honegger's "King David."

"King David," a biblical drama by Reue Morax, consists of five acts or "stages," corresponding to the five successive stages in the life of the hero: shepherd, leader, war chief, prophet, and king. Honegger's adaptation follows the story, but is divided into three parts.

Toledo Orchestra Concertmaster Paul Makara will open the concert with the Vieuxtemps' "Fifth Violin Concerto." Mr. Makara is a member of the Bowling Green faculty, and has been the orchestra's concertmaster since the opening of the 1958-59 season. This performance will mark his first solo appearance in a major composition with the orchestra.

Tickets are available at the Orchestra office, 801 Jefferson St., in Toledo.

Alpha Xi Delta Offers Social Service Award

Mrs. Virgil Taylor, president of Zeta province of Alpha Xi Delta, has announced that Alpha Xi Delta will award a graduate fellowship of $1,500 for advanced study in the field of social service, as a part of the sorority's national philanthropic program. Any graduate of an accredited college or university is eligible to apply.

Interested persons may obtain application blanks from Mrs. Taylor, 29 Darlyn Dr., Bowling Green. Applications must be mailed before March 1.

KEY Sales Closed; Orders Highest Ever

"Sales are now closed for the Key," explained Carol Geer, editor of the 1960 yearbook. "This year we will order the highest number of copies ever," she continued.

The senior section of the book is now being printed. The clubs and organizations sections are finished and the introduction and the Golden Anniversary section will be completed in a few weeks.

Even though work on the contents of the book is coming along on schedule, plans for the cover design and color are still undecided. Persons interested in working on the Key should contact Miss Geer in the Key office, in Room 1 Hanna Hall between 12:30 and 4:30 p.m. during the week.

Miss Geer concluded by saying that this year's Key will contain 320 pages. This is the highest number of pages to date and 16 more than last year's book contained.

the grapevine would be the means by which they would receive the news first. By assigning points to each place vote given to the various channels of communication on campus Ebenfeld came up with the ranking that follows: the grapevine, the B-G News, professors, official notice, bulletin boards and mass meetings.

The grapevine received 26 per cent of the total reply, as against 23 per cent for the News, Bulletin boards and mass meetings also were ranked highly in effectiveness.

On the other hand, 33 per cent of the replies indicated that the grapevine also was the least reliable channel of information.

Dance Duet . . .

DANCE CONCERT—Orchesis presented a dance concert entitled "Bon Voyage" Friday and Saturday, in the main auditorium. Shown above are two members of the cast doing a traditional dance from a foreign country. The program depicted basic dance characteristics of China, Yugoslavia, France, African countries, Hawaii and the United States. Robin Ward, Donna Jacob, and Bob Haskins were leaders.

'Bon Voyage' Features Dance Interpretations

By MELINDA MOSS

Orchesis, men's and women's modern dance club, presented an impressive dance concert, "Bon Voyage," Friday and Saturday evening in the main auditorium.

Under the talented leadership of Robin Ward, Donna Jacob, and Bob Haskins, Orchesis depicted the dance characteristics of countries including China, Yugoslavia, France, Africa, Hawaii, and the United States.

Especially exciting were "Night Stop," a duet by Robin Ward and Bob Haskins; "In My World," a solo by Donna Jacob; and "Sacrifice," with Mij Beckman, Bev Craig, Alice Saba, and Carolyn Weltmer.

Donna Jacob, Carolyn Pirner, and Melinda Wilson delightfully enacted the eternal love triangle in "Chinese Triangle." A colorful touch was added in Jan Overman's traditional dance, "Yugoslavian Lass."

Other members of Orchesis who added greatly to the interpretations were Bobbie Spinn, Jean Bogan, Kathy Guins, Joyce Yackey, Joan Baughman, Sandy Shanks, and John Ireland.

Linda Hopkins Janet Smik, Becky Smith, Joyce Kramer, Barbara Corrigan, Vivian Gerstnecker, Betty Hayes, Letitia Clawson, and Elaine Traub.

Miss Iris Andrews, assistant professor of HPE, supervised the costumes and musical assistance, and Miss Mary Whitney, assistant professor of HPE, supervised the choreography.

Nomination forms will be sent out shortly to sorority houses, fraternity houses, and dormitories, to give the student body an opportunity to nominate candidates for the forthcoming election March 17.

The nominating committee, which is made up of the Student Council members who will graduate in June, selects candidates as follows: at least two but not more than four rising seniors as candidates for president of the student body; at least two but not more than three rising sophomores, juniors, or seniors as candidates for secretary of the student body; at least two but not more than three rising sophomores, juniors, or seniors as candidates for treasurer of the student body; at least five but not more than seven seniors as candidates for membership on the Student Council; and at least five but not more than seven rising sophomores as candidates for membership on the Student Council.

17 Students Found Guilty Of Violations By Student Court

Seventeen students were found guilty of automobile rule violations at the Feb. 9 session of Student Court. Charged with violating the rule on traffic convictions other than at the University, Donald Mayer and Thomas Persing were found guilty. Mayer was given a week's suspension of driving privileges and Persing was ordered to attend three court sessions.

Found guilty of his third parking offense was James Walters, who was ordered to pay $10. His driving privileges were suspended for three weeks.

Fined $3 for second parking offenses were Thomas Lindy and Edward Anzalone who was also given a one-week suspension of his car. Anzalone was convicted of his first parking violation and was fined 75 cents. Donald Strayer was found guilty of his second parking violation and was ordered to attend three sessions.

First parking offenders fined $1 were Julie Boyd, Robert Enyeart, and James Meyers. Found guilty in absentia for first parking offenses were James Darrow, John Kelly, Richard Kuzma, Ron Parsons, Michael Pheneger, and Gary Steiger. All were fined $1.

It was decided that the decision of the court will stand in the case of Robert Molfetta, who was found guilty of his first and second parking offenses. Molfetta had appealed his case to the dean of men.

In selecting candidates, the nominating committee will seek the best qualified and the most responsible students available within the entire student body to discharge the functions delegated in the Constitution.

The qualifications for the different offices are as follows: for the Student Council, any rising sophomore, junior, or senior, who has a cumulative point average of 2.5 or above will be eligible for elective membership. Any full-time student in the University with a cumulative point average of 2.5 or better will be eligible for membership on a Student Body Board except the Leadership and Service Board for which a member shall have a 3.0 cumulative point average or above.

Any rising sophomore, junior, or senior with a cumulative point average of 2.5 shall be eligible for membership on the University committees.

Any rising sophomore, junior, or senior, with a cumulative point average of 3.0 or above, shall be eligible for membership on the Student Court.

To be eligible for election as president or vice president of the student body a senior must have a 3.0 cumulative point average. Any rising sophomore, junior, or senior with a cumulative point average of 3.0 or above shall be eligible for election as secretary or treasurer of the student body the following year.

Jim Stoltz Is Recipient Of Journalism Award

James Stoltz has been awarded the Northwestern Ohio District Journalism Association annual freshman scholarship for the second semester of this year.

The scholarship of $125 is presented to a freshman student in journalism at the University.

Stoltz, a native of Toledo, was editor of his high school newspaper at Rodgers High School. He was sports editor his junior year. He is now assistant sports editor of the B-G News.

A committee composed of officers of the association and newspapermen and radio newsmen of northwest Ohio selects the award winner. The committee is now choosing next year's scholarship recipient.

Many Take Advantage Of Nat'l Loan Fund

"An increasing number of full-time students are taking advantage of the National Defense Student Loans. Three hundred and thirty-three students were granted loans during the first semester of this school year and more than 400 loans have been granted this semester," said Robert E. McKay, student financial aid counselor.

Students going to school on scholarships and grants-in-aid were reminded by Mr. McKay that they must submit new applications for their financial assistance each year.

Those students who are considering applying for National Defense Loans for the coming year should plan to make application before the end of the semester, but not before May 1.

"For all practical purposes, students would be ahead if they waited until August before filing for their National Defense Student Loans, because by that time they will know just how much money they need to continue their schooling, and will not try to borrow more than is necessary," added Mr. McKay.

Important Notice To Bridge Fans

Duplicate bridge players will participate in the fourteenth National Intercollegiate Tournament, 6:30 Wednesday, Feb. 24, in the Ohio Suite of the Union.

All undergraduates who wish to compete should contact Jean Ann Schars at the Alpha Chi Omega house immediately.

Eighteen bridge hands are being prepared by Geoffrey Mott Smith, well known bridge authority, to be sent to 120 colleges throughout the nation. More than 2,000 college students will be playing identical hands at the same time.

HOT CAR—Fire broke out suddenly at 12:15 a.m. Saturday morning in a car parked behind the University Union. The car, which belonged to a visitor to the campus, caught fire when the ignition was turned on, immediately after the car had stalled. The Bowling Green fire department was called to the scene and extinguished the fire. No damage other than to the car was reported.

Editorially Speaking

Misconception About Meters

It has come to our attention that some persons are misinformed as to the purposes of the metered parking areas. We hope to set the record straight.

1. Two areas on the inner campus (one to the rear of the Union and the other in front of the Men's Gym) have been metered in an attempt to set aside convenient space for frequent visitors to campus and those working in the buildings nearby. This is a common courtesy. Though the cost of parking there is not prohibitive, the chance of these centrally located areas being continually filled with student cars is reduced. It was done with the knowledge that ample student parking facilities and unmetered visitor spaces are available in those areas surrounding the campus. With parking space available, the pressures of maintaining good public relations with the daily influx of important visitors and those who have need for access to these areas are also reduced.

2. The meters are neither "money makers" nor sources of revenue for the University policemen. If the purpose of the meters was to make money, metered parking would not be limited to the two areas mentioned. The money collected from the meters is returned to the business office for use in resurfacing and repaving parking lots and maintaining the police force budget. The patrolmen themselves receive a straight salary. No commissions are received on tickets issued. Fine money is used for the same purposes as the meter revenue.

If persons who have been disgruntled with the situation will keep these points in mind the total public relations problem will be greatly reduced.

Victory Or Defeat?

A challenge — victory or defeat?

A challenge — academic, social, spiritual, or athletic—something eternally present in the life of every individual—something to be met, fought, and conquered.

Bowling Green has been challenged. Tomorrow night the Golden Flashes from Kent will invade the Men's Gym for what looks to be another exciting evening of basketball. A few undoubtedly will remember the exaggerated accounts of our last game with Kent and anxiously will await the chance to return the "treatment." But is this the way to victory?

It seems as if one small exhibition of poor sportsmanship, defective judgment, rudeness, delinquency, or inefficiency is repeated and remembered all out of proportion to the vastly greater number of times when good sportsmanship, effective judgment, politeness, and hospitality are the general rule. There is a tendency to emphasize the bad and overlook the good—to remember the exception and forget the rule.

Tomorrow night the Flashes will be our guests, and as such will be entitled to our best. Our reputation as a courteous and just host is at stake; we have reached another "crisis." One avenue to victory is the recognition of good play—fair play—by either team. Antagonists and vengeance seekers are nowhere sought or esteemed; booing is for the disrespectful, the uneducated. Eyes from all over the country will be watching to see our reaction to this challenge—whether we conquer or fall.

We are meeting our challenge. What shall it be—victory or defeat?

Swastika Painting Fad Gouges Unhealed Wounds Of Sentiment

By KEITH SANDERS

American college students have once again lived up in part to their delegated juvenile stature as portrayed by many recent magazine articles. The case in reference is the recent swastika paintings that have taken place on our campuses across the country. Many college editors have expressed their opinions on this anti-Semitic outburst.

A Boston University News editorial stated, "It seems impossible to us to have college students, supposedly the 'cream of the crop' of American youth, laugh and snicker at the sign which caused terror in the hearts of so many less than two decades ago." An Ohio State Lantern reporter stated that "only a backward mind would think of painting the swastika and carrying out mass protests against the Jews—or for that matter any religious or racial group."

The Daily Universe of Brigham Young University paralleled telephone stuffing and swastika painting as student fads. However, "unlike the harmless telephone booth diversion, the swastika pranks destroyed property and gouged at unhealed wounds of public sentiment." The editor suggested that "the best medicine for such lunk-heads would be to take them over and show them the gas chambers and the burning ovens where Hitler killed thousands of Jews. If they had ever smelled the stench of burning human flesh or heard the screams of persons scolding to death they'd get sick every time they saw a swastika."

W. C. Cook of Wichita Falls, Tex. should become the world's champion liar for 1959. The lie he told was: "You have heard of big winds. Well, last summer we had so little wind down here that I had to take down two of the three windmills on my ranch to get enough wind to operate the other one. And if I hadn't taken down the wire fences that were obstructing the wind, that wouldn't have worked." Bowling Green's Student Court justices might be able to top that one. They've heard some good ones, too.

For all those hopefuls who have been testing the allegiance of their lovers by plucking petals from daisies, there comes the news that the daisy is a fraud. Southern California's Daily Trojan reports that every daisy always has an even number of petals. If you start out in the normal manner—"he loves me"—you're bound to end up with—"he loves me not." It is possible that you will end up on "he loves me." In his case, either you can't count, you're a cheat, or you've picked up a shoddy product—a damaged or freak daisy.

Tired from the tedium of studying? Then maybe you should try balloon racing as one members of Kappa Psi, paramedical fraternity, at Ohio Northern University. Students inflate balloons with hydrogen then release them. The flight is then timed to determine the winner.

MacLeish Play Matinee Topic

"J. B.," the modern version of the tragedy of Job, by Archibald MacLeish, will be the play discussed at Matinee Hour at 3:30 p.m. today in the Ohio Suite of the Union.

Discussing this 1959 Pulitzer Prize winner will be the Rev. Eugene Davis, director of United Christian Fellowship, and several UCF members.

"An important announcement concerning this play will be made at this meeting," said Dr. Stanley Kahan, instructor in speech, and supervisor of Matinee Hour.

Excerpts from the most startling scenes will be heard from recordings by the play's original cast, starring Raymond Massey.

"J. B." has been produced all over the world. Brooks Atkinson, play critic, called it "one of the greatest plays of the 20th Century."

Robert Downing in the February issue of Theatre Arts commented, "It is reasonable to predict that within the next decade, MacLeish's modernized version of the 'Book of Job' will have been seen in principal theatres throughout the world—perhaps even behind the Iron Curtain."

He wrote, "From 'J. B.'s quick acceptance at home and abroad it is apparent that MacLeish has achieved a singular victory not only in dramaturgy, but in helping to dispel the current hostility that is felt for all things American in many parts of Europe."

University Presents Children's Fantasy, 'The Tinder Box'

"The Tinder Box," the University Theatre's children's show, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, in Gate Theatre.

The story reveals the adventures and misfortunes of a very splendid soldier in quest of money and the hand of the beautiful princess. With the help of some magic and three clever dogs, he outsmarts the king and queen and baffles the others in a series of humorous episodes.

The children's show is planned for children of grade school age as well as for campus students. The cast will tour northwestern Ohio with appearances in Marion, Norwalk, Oregon, and Bowling Green.

Tickets will be on sale at the door, with no seats reserved. The box office will open at 7 o'clock each night of the performance.

Democrats Undecided

Dr. Barrell Discusses Nominees, Campaign Issues For Election

By DAVE LORE

"The major issue in the upcoming presidential elections could be the inadequacy of our defense program in view of the Russian advances in this field," said Dr. Charles A. Barrell. "Nixon will be the Republican nominee, while the Democratic race could turn into a three and even a four-way battle between Kennedy, Johnson, Symington, and Stevenson."

Upon further consideration, Dr. Barrell, chairman of the political science department, suggested that "although Kennedy's chances are improving, Symington could be a strong dark horse candidate if the Democrats can make the issue of inadequate defense stick, since the Missouri senator is an outspoken critic of the Republicans on this issue, and is well-versed in the situation."

"However," he said, "the Democrats may be afraid of the repercussions of raising this defense issue in a political campaign, since they have been in power at the time of both World Wars. They have acquired a saber-rattling reputation that could do them serious damage at this time, in contrast with the Republican motto of 'peace and prosperity.' The latter has been reaffirmed by the Eisenhower administration from his promise in 1952 to end the Korean War to his present exchange of good-will trips with Russia."

Other issues cited by Dr. Barrell are the proper uses of our wealth in the fields of education and other public services such as medical research and housing and the ever-present farm problem. On the latter subject Dr. Barrell predicted that "each party still will refuse to face up to the ultimate realities of the farm problems of surpluses and subsidies."

Dr. Barrell said that the selection of a President should not be made on personality alone but, "There is a case in considering the personality of the candidate, since it is important to have explicit confidence in the President. A President's responsibilities are much the same as an educator's, in the sense that both must instill confidence and demand respect and interest in the performance of their duties."

Today's Squelch-

With college "cribbing" as a major issue of the day—this story from a Mid-western university. It seems that a student had arranged to sit by an open window during a final examination. The plan called for his roommate to arrive outside the window, pick up the exam, take it back to the room, fill it out, and return the completed exam before the end of the hour.

With only several minutes remaining, the dutiful roommate reappeared, slipped the finished test back through the window, and left. The "cribbler" turned in the exam and walked out.

Next day he was called in by the professor to explain how his test had been typewritten.

5 Musicians Combine In Recital Performance

Five music students presented a recital on Feb. 4, in the recital auditorium, Hall of Music.

Flutist Patricia Van Osdel presented Handel's "III Sonata." Debussy's "La Plus que Lente" was played by pianist Laurel Davidson. Janet Van Tassel, tenor saxophonist, presented Schumann's "Fantasy-Piece."

Violinists Amy Miller and Marjorie Underwood played Rosenmuller's "Sonata E Minor."

Mary Alice Newbauer and Sally Tippin accompanied the students in their selections.

COMMITTEES: AN AGONIZING REAPPRAISAL

To those of you who stay out of your student government because you believe the committee system is just an excuse for inaction, let me cite an example to prove that a committee, properly led and directed, can be a great force for good.

Last week the Student Council met at the Duluth College of Veterinary Medicine and Belles-Lettres to discuss purchasing a new doormat for the students union. It was, I assure you, a desperate problem because Sherwin K. Sigafos, janitor of the students union, threatened flatly to quit unless a new doormat was installed immediately. "I'm sick and tired of mopping that dirty old floor," said Mr. Sigafos, sobbing convulsively. (Mr. Sigafos, once a jolly outgoing sort, has been crying almost steadily since the recent death of his pet wart hog who had been his constant companion for 22 years. Actually, Mr. Sigafos is much better off without the wart hog, who tusked him viciously at least once a day, but a companionship of 22 years is, I suppose, not lightly relinquished. The college tried to give Mr. Sigafos a new wart hog—a frisky little fellow with floppy ears and a waggly tail—but Mr. Sigafos only turned his back and cried the harder.)

But I digress. The Student Council met, discussed the doormat for eight or ten hours, and then referred it to a committee. There were some who scoffed then and said nothing would ever be heard of the doormat again, but they reckoned without Invictus Millstone.

Invictus Millstone, chairman of the doormat committee, was a man of action—like and lean and keen and, naturally, a smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes. Why do I say "naturally"? Because, dear friends, active men and active women don't have time to fuss and fumble and experiment with cigarettes. They need to be sure their cigarettes will never fail them—that the flavor will always be mild and mellow—that the filter will always filter—that the pack will always be soft or flip-top. In short, they need to be sure it's Marlboro—dependable, constant, tried and true Marlboro. Smoke one. You'll see.

Well sir, Invictus Millstone chaired his doormat committee with such vigor and dispatch that, when the Student Council met only one week later, he was able to rise and deliver the following recommendations:

1. That the college build new schools of botany, hydraulic engineering, tropical medicine, Indo-Germanic languages, and military.
2. That the college drop football, put a roof on the stadium, and turn it into a low-cost housing project for married students.
3. That the college raise faculty salaries by $5000 per year across the board.
4. That the college secede from the United States.
5. That the question of a doormat for the students union be referred to a subcommittee.

So let us hear no more defeatist talk about the committee system. It can be made to work!

© 1960 Max Shulman

You don't need a committee to tell you how good Marlboro are. You just need yourself, a Marlboro, and a match... Or if you like mildness but you don't like filters, try Marlboro's sister cigarette—Philip Morris.

Young Ideas

How To Treat An All-American; Toledo Fans Set Poor Example

By DAVE YOUNG

Last Wednesday evening in the Toledo Field House there was a mass exhibition of uncalled for and unsportsmanlike conduct. The occasion was the second annual meeting between arch-rivals Bowling Green and Toledo.

In an earlier encounter between these two teams on Jan. 13, a once-in-a-lifetime performance was supplied by the Falcons' Jimmy Darrow as he electrified the crowd with a record-breaking 52-point Herculean feat. Partly on the strength of this accomplishment, but more because of the good sportsmanship that Darrow depicts, he is being considered for All-American mention.

If Darrow is All-American material, then why is it that almost everywhere the Falcons go on the road he is booed? Coach Harold Anderson stated: "The fans like to antagonize Jimmy. They try to upset him, but it doesn't work."

When Bowling Green played at Kent on Jan. 19, the Kent fans not only booed and heckled Darrow, but they threw coke cups at him as well.

Just recently at Marshall, Darrow played before the lowest type of crowd. They weren't sports fans, because true sports fans don't boo an injured player. But the fans did at Marshall. Midway in the fourth quarter of the game, Darrow was bumped and sent sprawling to the floor in pain. When he had to be helped from the floor, did the crowd give the injured athlete a round of applause? No. They booed him.

"Shoot, Shoot"

Almost everywhere the Falcons have gone -- Michigan State, Bradley, Western Michigan, Kent, Marshall, Miami, and Toledo -- Darrow has been met with choruses of "Shoot, Shoot." The only places that Darrow and the Falcons have been treated with some respect on the road have been Oklahoma City and Duquesne.

Going back to last Wednesday and the Toledo game, the Rocket fans put on a demonstration of poor sportsmanship by booing when the Falcons' starting lineup was announced. Of course, the fair-weather Toledo fans had a special welcome for Darrow—a barrage of boos that nearly rocked the new reserved seats loose from their foundations.

The Falcons move into the home stretch Wednesday evening when they entertain Kent in the first of six remaining games. Four of them are at home.

It's very unlikely that the Falcons, with just four Mid-American Conference games remaining, will repeat a come-from-behind rally to cop the conference crown as they did last year. It would take a miracle.

A Miracle

Yet a miracle of another kind could take place before the season is over. For it seems that it will take a miracle for Bowling Green fans to stop sitting on their hands and start generating some gym-shattering noise.

Only once this year—in the first Toledo game—have Bowling Green fans shown that they have some life and excitement; stood up and cheered at the top of their lungs; gone home from a game with sore throats and ringing hands.

When the Falcons make their final four showings in the Men's Gym, wouldn't it be different to rock the gym with noise and excitement? Wouldn't it be nice to prove to the team that we, the fans of Bowling Green, are behind them? And don't you think we owe it to Darrow to drown out the boos that he has been subjected to and replace them with resounding cheers?

SOARING SPLASHERS—A News photographer snapped this action at the start of a race between Michigan State's women's swimming team and the Bowling Green Splashers in the Natatorium Saturday. Michigan eked out a 44-43 win.

Splashers Beaten In Final Event

After holding the lead until the last event, the Bowling Green Splashers lost to Michigan State's women's swimming team Saturday, 44-43.

Dona Rae Whittaker, swimming in her last meet as a senior, won the 50-yard freestyle in 2:9.4 and the 50-yard breaststroke in :38.9. Karen Murphy won the 200-yard medley relay in 2:29.6. Miss Whittaker placed second in one event and Miss Murphy in two events, respectively.

Gladys Griesmer placed second in the 100-yard freestyle and Edwina Fink in the 75-yard individual. Michigan State won five events.

Last semester at Michigan State, Miss Whittaker broke the Big 10 record in the 50-yard butterfly with :29.3, and Miss Murphy broke the record in the orthodox breaststroke.

Miss Whittaker and Miss Griesmer are co-captains of Splashers and Miss Iris Andrews, assistant professor of HPE, is adviser.

'Skeeter' Wallace Leads Kent Invasion Tomorrow

Coach Bill Bertka brings his Kent State Golden Flashes to the Men's Gym at 8 p.m. tomorrow to take on the Falcons in a Mid-American Conference clash.

This will be the second meeting this season between the two clubs. In a game at Kent Memorial Field House on Jan. 19, Bowling Green rallied in the last two and a half minutes to eke out a 76-74 win.

Kent currently is 7-11, with its most impressive victory being a 101-70 win over Marshall College. This year's Flashes are far different from last year's "freeze team," which acquired a reputation for a slow, deliberate style of play.

Currently in the MAC cellar with a 1-6 record, the Flashes are led by Oliver (Skeeter) Wallace, an all-MAC first team selection last year and leading scorer on the team with a more than 20 point-per-game average. Joining him at the other forward position will be 6-6 Charley Boykin, who is scoring at a 16-point-per-game clip.

The guards will be 5-10 Hal Estis, and 5-10 Jim Maddox. Estis currently is scoring 12 points per game while Maddox has a six-percentage average.

Jumping center will be Chester Thomas, a 6-4 sophomore. Backing him up will be 6-6 Harvey Hunt.

LaPrise, Martin Shine As Swim Squad Splits

By TOM WHELAND

Bowling Green's varsity swimming team came off even in a trip to Illinois last week. It beat Loyola of Chicago and lost to North Central State.

At Loyola, Gary LaPrise and Ray Martin led the tankers to a 58-37 win. LaPrise set a pool record in the 50-yard freestyle in the time of :23.0 and won the 100-yard freestyle.

Martin contributed wins in the 200-yard individual medley and the 220-yard backstroke. Also winning for the Falcons were Barry Walsh, 220-yard freestyle; Ralph Weibel, diving; and the 400-yard freestyle relay with Jim Hart, Hank Reest, Franz Fauley, and Ben Lauber swimming.

Recording a win for Loyola was the 400-yard medley relay team of Len Vertuno, Peter Trummer, and Ron Blair.

The tankers then lost a dual meet to North Central College, 53-42. This left them with a 7-2 record. North Central is now 3-0 in dual meet competition.

Dick Blick, whom Coach Sam Cooper calls one of the best middle distance swimmers in the country, won three events to lead his team to victory. He won the 220-yard freestyle, 100-yard freestyle, and the 440-yard freestyle. Picking up other wins for the North Central squad were Colin Campbell, diving; Ernie Alix, 200-yard butterfly; and its 440-yard medley relay team.

The Falcons scored their first win in the third event, when LaPrise won the 50-yard freestyle. Ray Martin then won the 200-yard individual medley relay. BG dropped the next two events before Martin picked up a win in the 200-yard backstroke.

Paul Vogel in the 200-yard breaststroke and the undefeated 400-yard freestyle relay team also won for the Falcons. The relay team of Franz Fauley, Martin, Walsh, and LaPrise set a new pool record of 3:34.6 for the event.

Next week the tankers will take on Notre Dame and Kent.

Grapplers Capture 19th In Win Over Canadians

BG's Falcon wrestlers, currently ranked 19th in the nation by one of the national press polls, tallied their 19th straight win by defeating Western Ontario, 28-0, Saturday.

John Brodbeck, BG, needed only 58 seconds to score the match's only pin, in the 123-pound division, over Bill Barnicke. The remaining seven victors won via decisions.

Bowling Green's matmen have only three remaining matches before the Mid-American Conference meet, March 4 and 5 at Ohio University. The remaining hurdles include Ohio Northern, 15th-ranked Toledo, and Kent State.

In preliminary matches BG's frosh squad shut out the Canadians, 21-0.

Varsity results:
123 pounds—Brodbeck, BG, pinned Bill Barnicke; 130 pounds—Dale Gogins, BG, over Ron Biltz; 138: 137 pounds—George Letzner, BG, over Steve Wade; 3-2; 147 pounds—Jim Hoppel, BG, over Bob Person; 3-1; 157 pounds—Bob Dake, BG, over Don Nielsen; 8-3; 167 pounds—John Ruper, BG, won by default; 177 pounds—Jerry Dianiska, BG, over Norm Clement; 9-2; Heavyweight—Al Kebel, BG, over Brent Mundy; 4-0.

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt...and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards...as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

PHI TAU PLAYMATE—Members of the staff of Playboy Magazine selected Julie Mairs, Alpha Xi Delta, as Phi Kappa Tau's "Playmate" of 1960. The announcement was made at the Phi Tau Playboy formal Friday, Feb. 12.

Mairs Chosen As Phi Tau 'Playmate'

Julie Mairs was announced as Phi Kappa Tau's Playmate of 1960 at the fraternity's annual Playboy formal, Feb. 12, in the ballroom of the Union. The selection was made by the staff of Playboy Magazine.

After the Playmate was crowned by last year's Playmate, Joyce Hafer, she was presented flowers and a personal trophy by the fraternity. A rotating trophy was also presented to the Playmate for her sorority, Alpha Xi Delta.

Prior to the dance, the Phi Taus and their guests met at the house for refreshments. Chaperons for the event were: Mrs. Pauline Bertsch, Dr. and Mrs. Giles Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brenner, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lenhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weaver. The formal dance featured the music of Ernie Duffield and his 15-piece orchestra.

Other candidates for the Playmate contest were:

Barber Shop Sing

Six sororities and four fraternities will compete for the all-campus championship in the sixth annual Barber Shop Sing, sponsored by Phi Delta Theta, to be held at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 20 in the ballroom of the Union.

The sororities who have entered this year's Barber Shop Sing are: Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Xi Delta, Phi Mu, Delta Gamma, Chi Omega, and Kappa Delta. The competing fraternities are Theta Chi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Psi, and Delta Tau Delta.

Last year's winners were Alpha Xi Delta in the women's division and Kappa Sigma in the men's division. Kappa Sigma won the all-campus championship.

The rotating all-campus championship trophy is awarded to the winner of a run-off contest between the sorority and fraternity champions. Rotating trophies also are awarded to the second and third-place winners in each division. Each member of the all-campus championship quartet receives a permanent trophy.

Entertainment will be provided at intermission by Marilyn Gelo, Joyce Evans, Don Nadel, Jim Steidtmann and Curt Kuenzli, and Jim Wilkens.

Bob Boulton is chairman of this year's Barber Shop Sing and Bob Colburn and Chuck Ramsey will serve as masters of ceremonies.

Phi Kappa Psi

Phi Kappa Psi recently elected the following officers: Ron Straus, president; Dick Frey, vice president; Mark Deerwester, treasurer; and Jim Myers, secretary.

Alpha Delta Pi

Alpha Delta Pi held its Snow-Ball Friday, Jan. 8, in the ballroom of the Union. Two snowmen holding hands, snowflakes, and marshmallow trees portrayed the winter theme. During the intermission entertainment was presented by the ADPI trio, and refreshments were served.

Alpha Delta Pi recently held an exchange dinner with Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Alpha Delta Pi initiated 17 girls Saturday, Feb. 6. They were: Pat Boyle, Phyllis Emerick, Marilyn Fries, Kay Grunden, Ann Harter, Louanna Imhoff, Kay Kelly, Anita Kolstrum, Brenda Lee, Pam Mintier, Sandra Morgan, Doris Robusky, Margrit Schween, Barb Solosky, Diana Striff, Barb Wickert, and Nancy Wilson.

The initiation banquet was held in the Pheasant Room of the Union. Kay Grunden was chosen outstanding pledge.

Student Orientation Application Blanks Are Now Available

Applications for student orientation leader positions for next fall are available from residence hall counselors, at residence main desks, and from presidents of Greek organizations, according to Pat Poole, chairman of the Student Orientation Board.

The applications are to be submitted at Room 6 Gate Theatre by March 11. Interviewing and screening will be scheduled at later dates.

The board members, Pat Poole, Jan Hofstetter, Roger Andrews, Robert Reid, and Wesley Jones, have been discussing and evaluating past fall orientations and planning selection of student leaders for next fall.

The board's purpose is to train student leaders to acquaint new students with their surroundings, to help them learn about their relation to the social and academic mores of the University, and to aid them in discovering the opportunities for cultural and intellectual growth and the campus organizations which provide them.

Winner To Represent University In Nation-Wide Glamour Contest

For the second year the best dressed girl on the Bowling Green campus is being sought as a candidate for Glamour Magazine's "10 Best Dressed College Girls in America" contest. The B-G News will sponsor the contest, to take place at 6:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 29, in the Carnation Room of the Union.

Each sorority house and residence hall will have selected a girl to represent it by tomorrow. On Feb. 29 these girls will appear before the judges in three different outfits, an on-campus outfit, a daytime off-campus outfit, and a party dress, full or cocktail length.

Three snapshots of the winner in each of her different outfits and an official entry form will be sent to Glamour editors.

The girls will be judged on: good figure and posture; clean, shining, well-kept hair; imagination in managing a clothes budget; good grooming—not just neat, but impeccable; appropriate campus look (in line with Bowling Green customs); a clear understanding of her fashion type; individuality in her use of color accessories; a workable wardrobe plan; a neat way with make-up (enough to look pretty, but not overdone); and appropriate look for off-campus occasions.

Student To Travel; Destination—Africa

Larry Oswald, a sophomore in education, is preparing for the first of eight inoculations required for his upcoming trip this summer to Casablanca, on the other side of the globe.

In order to visit his parents whom he has not seen since last April, Oswald will depart this June for the French colony of Morocco in northwestern Africa, where his father, a captain in the Air Force, is stationed.

His trip will include explorations into many countries on the European continent, as well as several probes into Africa's interior. Oswald is no newcomer to travel, listing such past addresses as Mansfield and Hayesville, Ohio; Springfield, Mass.; Denver, Colo.; Hollywood, Calif.; Washington, D.C.; and Wichita Falls, Tex.

Clarinetist Blackburn Gives Senior Recital

Clarinetist Gerald Blackburn, a senior in the College of Education, presented his senior recital Feb. 10 in the Hall of Music recital auditorium.

Blackburn presented "Clarinet Concerto," by Stamitz; "Thema mit Variationen," by Bentzon; and "Fantasy-Pieces," by Schumann.

Tryouts Scheduled For One-Act Plays

Tryouts for the second bill of one-act plays will be held today from 6 to 9 p.m. in Rooms 106, 112, and 115 South Hall.

Casting will be Louis Mattachione for "Long View," by Kay Arthur; Carol Quimby, for "Happy Journey," by Thornton Wilder; and Nancy Holloway, for "The Anniversary," by Anton Chekhov.

The one-acts are under the direction of student directors enrolled in Speech 342, play direction. This program of laboratory productions is designed to give opportunities for training and experience. Many people who are seen as members of major production casts have done their ground work in these one-acts bills.

This bill of one-acts is scheduled for April 1, in Gate Theatre.

Official Announcement

Mrs. Jean Renz, graduate assistant in radio and television, has announced tryouts for staff announcers for the campus radio station, WBGU. The tryouts will be held in Room 413 South Hall, at 3:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Delta Phi Delta—Norman Schulman, Toledo ceramist, will speak at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 16, in the Fine Arts Gallery.

Geography Club and Gamma Theta Upsilon—Will hold meeting Mar. 10 in South Hall. Dr. Russell Decker will speak on the national parks. Miss Helen Wise, supervisor of elementary education for Lucas County, spoke on Japan, illustrating her talk with colored slides, at the last meeting.

Realm Of Professors

Faculty Has Active Extra Interests

Dr. Golden

Dr. Morris Golden, assistant professor of English, has suggested in an article published in Literature and Psychology, a publication of the Modern Language Association, that Oliver Goldsmith's poem, "The Deserted Village" may have additional poetic stature in the light of modern interpretation.

Dr. Golden suggests that the famous poem reveals "the author's anguished discovery, spurred by events in his own family, that every child must grow up, that the adult world necessarily carries with it an admixture of evil, that none can be pure except the dead."

Dr. Guthrie

Dr. Mearl Guthrie, professor and chairman of business education at Bowling Green State University, spoke on "Future Business Education Depends on You" at the national convention of the American Vocational Association in Chicago in December.

During the holidays, he served as consultant on business education for the director of the new southwest division of Southern Illinois University. He was also consultant in teaching college type-writing at the convention of the National Business Teachers Association in Cleveland last week.

Drs. Elfreda Rusher and Galen Stutsman, BG business education faculty members, attended the Cleveland meeting, as did Miss Roberta Retter, president of the local student chapter of Pi Omega Pi, national business education fraternity. Miss Retter was in charge of arrangements for the Pi Omega Pi convention in Cleveland earlier last week.

Dr. Sutton-Smith

Dr. Brian Sutton-Smith, assistant professor of psychology, is the author of a book entitled, "The Games of New Zealand Children," published by the University of California Press.

The book describes the historical changes which have taken place in the play and games of children during the past one hundred years.

Dr. Sutton-Smith is currently engaged in further historical research on the games of American children, anthropological studies of play phenomena throughout the world, and psychological research on the role of games in child development.

Dr. Sutton-Smith came to Bowling Green in 1956. He formerly was in this country as a Fulbright, Smith-Mundt Research Fellow at the Universities of California, Chicago, and Wayne in 1952 through 1954.

Dr. Kleckner

"Demands of Community Theaters on Drama Graduates" was the topic of a paper presented by Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, chairman of the speech department, at a sectional meeting of the joint convention of the Speech Association of America and the American Educational Theater Association.

Dr. Daniels

Dr. Edgar F. Daniels, assistant professor of English, has published in Notes and Queries an article tracing a parallel in a passage in Milton's "Paradise Lost" to a seventeenth century theological commentary. The reference deals with the Christian concept of the eternal darkness of Hell.

1957 BGSU Student Busy With 'Cyclones'

A former BGSU student is very busy in the field of popular music.

William Strickland, '57, for the past year has led his own combo, known as "Wild Bill Strickland and the Cyclones." Strickland's first rock 'n' roll record, "Count Down," was released in August. During the past few months the group has been making personal appearances throughout the state.

Strickland is a former resident of Bowling Green, but he now lives in Columbus. He will stay in this field for a few years, but says he eventually would like to return to college to major in sales management.

'Inflation' Is Discussed At Last Cobus Hour

"Inflation cannot be blamed on any one thing," stated Lewis F. Manhart, professor of business administration, at Cobus Hour, Feb. 10.

He compared prices and wages to Indian arrowheads. "A person who finds an arrowhead is not able to tell everything about the environment from which it came. The same is true of facts and figures," said Mr. Manhart. He illustrated the point with charts on business matters. They contained facts and figures which seemed to be correct, but he started a discussion which proved them to be deceiving.

The next Cobus Hour will be at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in the White Dogwood Room of the Union. Dr. James Latham, assistant professor of geography will present the topic "Sitting on Top of the World."

A Phi O Sets Goal To Build Up Group

"Getting back on its feet in membership," explained James R. Coffey, adviser, "is the main drive of Alpha Phi Omega at the present time."

A Phi O has just finished disposing of the obsolete books left in its old book store last year. The service fraternity sold most of the books to the University book store and the rest to a book store in Columbus.

The fraternity still has use of its book store in the back of the Buckeye Room for meetings.

Dr. Coffey explained that he would like to see the fraternity begin a service to help the students dispose of their books and still make some money. He would like to have a representative in each of the fraternity and sorority houses to get all the books that are to be sold there, and take them all over to the University book store.

Another service for students that A Phi O provides is a loan fund.

Circle K Club To Conduct Guided Campus Tours

Circle K Club has volunteered the use of its members to provide guided tours around the campus for prospective students and their families.

Charles E. Perry, admissions counselor, explained how the tours would be conducted. Each Saturday many families come to Bowling Green to find out about the school and what it has to offer. After the family has talked with one of the admissions officers, a Circle K member will take the

Tentative Summer Schedules Include Increased Variety

"Because of the increased demand for summer school work at Bowling Green State University, we are offering a more inclusive program this year," stated Dr. Ralph H. Geer, director of the off-campus and summer school programs.

"Tentative schedules for summer classes and workshops were placed in the hands of advisers this week," Dr. Geer continued.

The emphasis for this program will be directed toward teachers working for degrees, graduate students, transient students, those students from other schools who are taking summer work at Bowling Green, and Bowling Green students who wish to accelerate and enrich their college programs.

"The schedule of classes being planned indicates expanded offerings to keep up with the increasing demand for graduate level work at the University," said Dr. Geer.

During the first session of summer school, June 13 to July 15, 106 classes will be offered, as compared with 85 last summer. Forty-nine of these classes may be taken by graduate students for credit.

During the second session, from July 18 through Aug. 19, 81 classes will be offered, as compared with 61 last year. Thirty-five of these will be for graduate credit.

Among the workshops tentatively planned for next summer are:

"Teaching the Gifted Child." This workshop is expected to lend itself well to the two or three weeks of concentrated study.

"Conversational French" and "Conversational Spanish." This workshop will give students an opportunity to converse with specialists in these languages.

A radiobiology workshop is also being planned. The course will deal with the nature of radioactive elements, their abundance, and their effect on living organisms.

According to Dr. Geer, "Plans are being made for another BGSU program of summer study abroad. Tentative plans indicate that students will spend approximately eight weeks in Europe. The anticipated cost will be about the same as in the past, between $1,200 and $1,300."

Confused Student?

Registration Demands Brains Plus Patience And Endurance

By SKIP FERDERBER

Now that the frantic rush to get into classes is just about over, I can look back with great relief to those days when I registered for this semester. As I think about it, my mind goes into high gear and out of the past comes the echo of thundering hoofbeats of the great horror—Registration—and The Late Student Flubs Again.

Due to a typically stupid error, I had not registered and I was faced with the decision either to register or leave school. Remembering what registering late had been like once before, I decided to leave school. Cooler heads prevailed (my parents), and I decided to steel myself for the ordeal. On Jan. 31, I stayed up quite late to see what courses I could take. "Let's see . . . Advanced Aardvark Stuffing . . . Weightlifting . . . Pizza-Eating . . ." Finally, the decisions were made. I climbed into my bed and fell into a troubled sleep, with visions of DROP-ADD slips in my mind.

Bright and early the next morning, I washed, showered, and dressed in my fanciest paisley Ivy League bermuda undershorts and raced up to school, anticipating a long line of delinquents like myself. With courage and thought, I walked into the Liberal Arts office, fully expecting someone to pat me on the head and tell me that I would be taken care of. I addressed myself to the secretary: "I'd like to register for classes."

"Didn't you read the paper? Late registration starts tomorrow."

With my mind recoiling in primitive agony, I stumbled across the snow field into the Nest, where I collapsed into a dirty coffee cup.

Tuesday morning was dark and gray. Once again, like Sidney Carton before the guillotine, I stood before the secretary's desk, a tragic, martyred figure. Again, I snivelled my request: "I'd like to register for classes."

"You'll have to see your adviser first."

I saw my adviser. Much later, I walked down to the registrar's office. After waiting in line for a little while (10 people collapsed and an ambulance crew was on 24-hour alert) I marched in ROTC fashion to the window and demanded: "I'd like to register for . . ."

"Oh, I'm sorry. You'll have to go to the rec hall."

It was conspiracy. All I wanted to do was register, that's all.

I went downstairs and stood in another line. At last, maybe this was . . . "I'm sorry. You're in the wrong line. Go to the next table."

At the next table, I received my cards and I proceeded to fill them out. Writer's cramp set in, and then gangrene, but I carried on, brave to the end. I handed the cards in. "Thank you. Please go upstairs."

It was 4:45. My troubles were just about over. "Hmm, your cards are in order . . . What? . . . Oh, this section is closed . . . the teacher said you could take it? . . ." The only way I could get the class was to get a note from the prof. I jumped on my ice skates, hitched a ride from a passing pedestrian, and made my way swiftly to the Music Bldg. I ran like a swift gazelle up the stairs. 4:51. I got the note, and ran quickly back to the Ad Bldg. Would I make it? 4:58. (I was a track man in high school.) I shoved the note in the registrar's hands just as he was closing the window. I was in!

Local SAM Group Receives Awards

Bowling Green's chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management is now the eighth largest of 142 chapters in the nation. As a result, it recently received two awards from the national office of SAM.

Warren C. Waterhouse, assistant professor of business administration and adviser to the organization, said of SAM, "It is a group which is open to college students and professionals who are interested in learning and applying improved methods to management."

One of the awards which the local chapter received was the "100 Club" award, given to the chapters with more than 100 members. The second was the Membership Growth Award, presented in recognition of the significant increase in membership.

Richard Goodwin, who is in charge of publicity for the group, said, "The society's program for the semester will be of a broad scope, but will focus on the details of industries. Monthly programs with films and speakers will give an insight into business problems and their solutions. Tours are being planned to present a picture of industry in action."

Election of new officers took place at the January meeting. The new president is Ronald Hunady. Kenneth Markley is vice president; Paul Witter, secretary; and Ralph Lawrence, treasurer.

At the next meeting, on Thursday, the guest speaker will be James Garven, director of public information and industrial promotion in Toledo. Mr. Garven will talk about industrial development in northwestern Ohio. The meeting will be in the Alumni Room of the Union, at 7 p.m. A business meeting will follow.

Prof. Waterhouse said that all members are urged to attend as well as those persons who are considering joining. "Memberships in SAM are open for the second semester of the year," he said.

English Brogues For 'Crichton' Major Production

"Oh, to be in England," is the feeling of many of those who were just cast in "The Admirable Crichton," fourth major production of the University Theatre. English accents will be heard all over the campus as cast members begin preparing for the show.

Cast in major roles are: Crichton, Ron Van Lieu; Ernest, Barry Cobb; Rev. Treherne, Skip Ferderber; Lord Brocklehurst, Ron O'Leary; Earl of Loam, Chuck Schultz; Lady Mary, Grace Henderson; Lady Agatha, Joan Niemes; Lady Catherine, Marcy Carroll; Tweeny, Ann Peeler; and Countess of Brocklehurst, Char Holloway.

Directing this play, said to be an actor's holiday, is Dr. Lee Miesle, assistant professor of speech and director of the University Theatre. Dr. Miesle directed "Harvey" earlier this year.

Architectural Engineering Subject Of Union Photography Exhibit

"Engineering," a photographic exhibition of the works of Pier Luigi Nervi will be on display in the promenade lounge of the Union, through March 6.

Pier Luigi Nervi is an Italian architectural engineer. This exhibit is designed to show his detailed and broad views and his works.

Some of his major drawings include the municipal stadium in Florence, the Pirelli skyscraper, the Savena railroad station, and the New Norcia Cathedral, in Australia.

More than 20 years ago, Nervi invented a new building material called "ferro-cemento." Because of its great and durable strength, "ferro-cemento" has allowed him to design buildings of enormous span and intricate patterns.

The use of this material permits new design effects, low construction costs, and great speed, compared to other methods. Some of Nervi's most exciting works owe their existence to "ferro-cemento." This product consists of closely packed layers of wire mesh and small reinforcing bars imbedded in high-strength mortar.

There are 39 large panels in this exhibit, which show views of airplane hangers, boat hulls, oil tanks, factories, a ballroom, the exhibition hall at Turin, a restaurant at Rome's Lido, the "Plaz-zetto Dello Sport" in Rome, and the UNESCO headquarters in Paris.

Plans and stress analyses, explanatory labels, and detailed views serve to clarify their structural features.

Transferences Display At Fine Arts Gallery

"Transferences," an exhibition of 32 paintings, currently is being shown at the Fine Arts Gallery. The exhibit, containing paintings by 13 artists from Australia, Canada, Ceylon, India, and South Africa, was assembled in London and brought to the United States after initial showings there. It is

Victory Over MSU Fourth In A Row

The Army ROTC rifle team won its fourth straight match Saturday by defeating Michigan University's sharpshooters, 1,380-1,350 here at Bowling Green.

Fred Semelka and Jerry Milnor paced the Falcons with totals of 280 and 278, respectively.

The Falcons defeated Michigan State Feb. 6 in a close match, 1,383-1,381. In the match, Fred Ziems and Milnor were high for the Falcons, both firing 279s. Other scores were Semelka, 276; Don Mayer, 275; and David Hunger, 274.

The Bowling Green team now has an average of 1,382 for the four matches fired in the 10-team Inter-Service ROTC Rifle League, presently occupying third place.

Alpha Xi Delta Selects Dream Man At Dance

Bob Spelder, Sigma Chi, was chosen as Alpha Xi Delta's 1960 Dream Man at the annual Sweet-heart Swing last week end. Music was provided by the Jim Fluke band.

Decorations consisted of the traditional hearts, with couples' names on them.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

FROOD TELLS HOW TO CLEAN UP ON YOUR LAUNDRY

(see below)

Dear Dr. Frood: I told my girl I was in love, and she laughed. I told her I wanted to get married, and she laughed. How can I make her realize that I'm serious?

Serious

Dear Serious: Marry someone.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have been having trouble sleeping at night. Do you think it could be because I drink coffee?

Wide-Eyed

Dear Wide-Eyed: Possibly. It's very difficult to sleep while drinking coffee.

Dear Dr. Frood: A lot of the guys complain because their mothers don't pack their laundry boxes properly. Is there a certain way they should be packed?

Spokesman

Dear Spokesman: Indeed there is. Clip out the instructions below and mail them to your mother.

Instructions:

1. Place bills of varying denominations in shirt collars (A) to keep them stiff.
2. Wrap socks around rolls of dimes (B) to keep them from getting mislaid.
3. Place other change in pockets (C) of khaki pants. This way it won't roll around and rattle in the box.

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you believe in the old adage, "Choose a girl by ear rather than by eye"?

Shopping

Dear Shopping: This maxim is indeed a fine guide for any young man who is looking for a girl. But while choosing by "ear rather than by eye," he should also make sure she has two of each.

Dear Dr. Frood: Every night I come home tired and I find the house in a mess. There are dirty dishes and pans in the sink, and clothes are thrown all around. I'm fed up. What should I do?

Married Student

Dear Married Student: You should notify the police. Someone has obviously been there.

Dr. Frood, Ph.T.T.

Dear Dr. Frood: How far ahead should I call for a date?

Straight Arrow

Dear Straight Arrow: It depends. Some girls must be called at least a week in advance. With others, you just holler as you enter the dorm.

Dear Dr. Frood: My husband is an absent-minded college professor. He went out 7 years ago to buy a pack of Luckies and hasn't returned yet. I don't know what to do.

Patience

Dear Patience: Better buy another pack. He's probably smoked them all by now.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.
